Descrição

According to Teleweb, evidence shows that access to information, counselling and online self-help programs plays an important role in suicide prevention, crisis advice and treatment of high prevalence mental disorders such as anxiety and depression. Online and telephone based services provide an accessible and anonymous service which people can access without having to leave the privacy of their homes.

Who benefits? Individuals across Australia who experience mild to moderate mental disorders such as anxiety and depression who may not currently receive treatment and particularly those people in rural and remote areas who face barriers in accessing face-to-face services.

Teleweb commenced in July 2006. All the projects listed below are operational and available nationally.

- Blue Knot Foundation a telephone and online support service to those seeking help for complex trauma from childhood.
- Black Dog Institute programs: myCompass an interactive self-help service that aims to promote resilience and well-being; and BITEBACK an interactive website for young people.
- The Butterfly Foundation a telephone and online support service for those affected by eating disorders.
- The ANU Research School of Psychology: e-hub web-based services a suite of self-help web based supports for people with anxiety and depression.
